DESIGNER NOTES

Designed with the same look and features as the rest of the Urban Form series, this elegant and captivating bench allows users to face in either direction. The central armrest provides a boundary for personal space while still allowing for interaction, intimacy, and collaboration. The armrest also serves as a platform for a coffee cup, cellphone, or small board game. Simple forms and fully finished surfaces with minimal exposed fasteners match contemporary architectural trends. The raised plastic lumber slats and angled backrest provide an exceedingly comfortable sitting experience. A perfect bench to view the surroundings from two different vantage points.
