DESIGNER NOTES

The Rutherford leaning bench was made to round out our Rutherford family series and provide another option in the leaning bench category. The design criteria was to achieve these goals: maximize the materials we currently have in stock (to keep our costs in line), complement our very popular Rutherford family series, and lastly make it comfortable and stylish. We think we nailed it!

The value of leaning benches is that they provide a perfect solution for those who don't want or need to sit down but need a place to temporarily rest. They also provide an alternative to standing in locations where benches are not feasible.
